

Colorado Sold for $6579 U.S. Dollars

More than half of U.S. States Sold for Real Money

MONTREAL (May23, 2007) – Colorado is the latest U.S. State to sell for real money as members race to accumulate the most valuable assets. The new Virtual Governor of Colorado is happy to talk to reporters about his investment.

Weblo is the only parallel universe based on real properties, cities and states. Weblo has sparked a virtual real estate boom. California sold for $53,000 USD, New York State sold for $19,354, Florida sold for $18,047 and now Colorado has sold for $6579 in real money.

Weblo.com has been compared to Second Life but that game is based on the sale of fantasy islands. Weblo is the only virtual world where every real city, state and property is for sale.

Major cites and properties around the world have sold and resold for profit.

Denver, originally bought for $28 was re-sold by that member for $250 – a $222 profit. The virtual mayor of Seattle sold his city for $2000 after buying it for $40 from Weblo. The virtual Empire State Building, originally purchased for one dollar re-sold for $250. Members flip virtual properties for profit just like in the real world.

“It’s like Monopoly on steroids. Every property, city and state from the real world is for sale at Weblo.com,” says Rocky Mirza, CEO and co-founder of Weblo.com. “This is social networking with commerce, where members finally get paid for their popularity. Before Weblo.com only website founders and shareholders profited.”

Members attract traffic to their Weblo.com websites with compelling content including photo galleries, forums, polls and videos. Members profit from hits and advertising revenue generated from their sites. City and State owners earn a percentage of all transactions within their territories.
