

10,000 Get Paid for Internet Content
Weblo.com Offers Internet Users Cash for Content

MONTREAL (Jan.29th, 2007) –

Every piece of content you post online is worth something to some advertiser somewhere. Every time someone views any piece of your content, be it a Facebook or MySpace profile, a video, a blog post, or even an email, someone is making money from it.

The only one not making money from your content is you, until now.

Weblo.com has finally changed that. Over 10,000 internet users have already started to cash in. They get paid directly for ad clicks when people view their content.

Over 5000 Facebook users are getting paid by posting ads that they get paid for. Too bad facebook - you can't have a piece of this pie.

Weblo calculates the InterNET Worth of your videos, social networking profiles, blogs and email addresses. After finding out how much your content is worth to Internet advertisers, Weblo gives you easy access to ads and you start making money.

"The internet is dominated by user generated videos, blogs, and social networking profiles, but few of these millions of content providers ever get paid for this valuable content," notes Rocky Mirza CEO and founder of Weblo.com, "At Weblo.com users can find out how much their digital assets are truly worth, and start making money with Internet ads."

This revolutionary approach to helping everyday internet users receive their rightful share of Internet profits is the latest offering from Weblo.com, which has been allowing members to profit by buying and selling virtual copies of real world cities, states, properties and domains since 2006.
